

NEWS RELEASE

August 17, 2020

Contacts:

SJC Media Relations
408-392-1199
sjcmedia@sjc.org

Volaris
Gabriela Fernandez
gfernandez@gcya.net

Volaris Announces New Nonstop Service to Mexico City from Mineta San José International Airport

– New international connection provides Silicon Valley travelers with more flight options to Latin America –

San José, Calif. – Volaris announced new, nonstop service from Mineta San José International Airport (SJC) to Mexico City (MEX) today, with three weekly flights beginning Nov. 9, 2020. Mexico City will become the seventh nonstop route between Silicon Valley's Airport and Mexico and the fifth flown by Volaris.

"We're excited to add Mexico City to the growing list of routes Volaris flies between San Jose and Mexico," said SJC Director of Aviation John Aitken. "Mexico is an important business and leisure destination for many South Bay Area travelers, and Volaris continues to recognize the strength of the San Jose market with added service and competitive fares."

As Mexico's largest city and one of the most populous metropolitan areas in the Western Hemisphere, Mexico City is home to a rich cultural history, some of the world's most well-known museums and a variety of delicious culinary experiences. Mexico's booming capital region is also the emerging tech hub of Latin America, with a strong business connection to Silicon Valley. The many South Bay Area travelers with personal and family ties to central Mexico will also benefit from the added convenience of this new nonstop service.

"Volaris remains focused in providing the best travel experience at affordable prices so more people can travel to San José, California. We have pioneered the implementation of a Biosafety Protocol since early May that protects Clients and Crew during all the stages of the trip, and we are confident that this new route will help more friends and relatives to reunite after so many months apart," said Miguel Aguiñiga Rodríguez, Markets Development Director of Volaris.

Beginning Nov. 9, Volaris's new San José-Mexico City flights will operate on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays according to the following schedule (all times local):

Route	Departs	Arrives	Frequency
San José – Mexico City	4:50 p.m.	11:30 p.m.	Mon, Wed, Fri
Mexico City – San José	12:40 p.m.	3:20 p.m.	Mon, Wed, Fri

Volaris will initiate service with its modern Airbus A320 aircraft with seating for 179 passengers. Tickets are now available for purchase at volaris.com.

Volaris serves more destinations in Mexico nonstop from SJC than any other carrier. In addition to this new Mexico City service, Volaris flies nonstop between SJC and Guadalajara (GDL), León/Guanajuato (BJX), Morelia (MLM), and Zacatecas (ZCL).

SJC: Transforming How Silicon Valley Travels

Mineta San José International Airport (SJC) is Silicon Valley's airport, a self-supporting enterprise owned and operated by the City of San José. The airport, now in its 71st year, served nearly 15.7 million passengers in 2019, with nonstop service across North America and to Europe and Asia. SJC was America's fastest-growing major airport the past four years, based on percentage increase in passengers served. For more airport information, visit <https://www.flysanjose.com>.

About Volaris

("Volaris" or the "Company") (NYSE: VLRS and BMV: VOLAR), is an ultra-low cost airline, with point-to-point service that operates in Mexico, the United States and Central America. Volaris offers low base rates to stimulate the market, offering quality customer service and a vast choice of products. Since it began operating in March 2006, Volaris has increased its fleet from four to 82 airplanes. Volaris focuses on passengers who visit friends and family (VFR), business travelers concerned about the cost of the trip and people who make pleasure trips in Mexico and to selected destinations in the United States and Central America. Volaris has received the Socially Responsible Company (ESR) award for eleven consecutive years. For more information visit: www.volaris.com

- SJC -